John 20

24 Now Thomas (also known as Didymus), one of the Twelve, was not with the disciples when Jesus came. 25 So the other disciples told him, "We have seen the Lord!" But he said to them, "Unless I see the nail marks in his hands and put my finger where the nails were, and put my hand into his side, I will not believe." 26 A week later his disciples were in the house again, and Thomas was with them. Though the doors were locked, Jesus came and stood among them and said, "Peace be with you!" 27 Then he said to Thomas, "Put your finger here; see my hands. Reach out your hand and put it into my side. Stop doubting and believe." 28 Thomas said to him, "My Lord and my God!"

Questions for Discussion

1. Read John 20:24-29.
2. Why do you think John records this interaction?
3. What does Jesus' response to Thomas say about our questions and doubts?
4. Do you feel like modern science contradicts the Christian faith?
5. How should Christians deal with challenges that come from science and the modern university?
6. What do young people most want to see from the Christian church in response to thoughtful questions and challenges?

Take time to pray for for one another.
