Luke 10

30 Jesus said: "A man was going down from Jerusalem to Jericho, when he was attacked by robbers. They stripped him of his clothes, beat him and went away, leaving him half dead. 31 A priest happened to be going down the same road, and when he saw the man, he passed by on the other side. 32 So too, a Levite, when he came to the place and saw him, passed by on the other side. 33 But a Samaritan, as he traveled, came where the man was; and when he saw him, he took pity on him. 34 He went to him and bandaged his wounds, pouring on oil and wine. Then he put the man on his own donkey, brought him to an inn and took care of him. 35 The next day he took out two denarii and gave them to the innkeeper. 'Look after him,' he said, 'and when I return, I will reimburse you for any extra expense you may have.' 36 "Which of these three do you think was a neighbor to the man who fell into the hands of robbers?" 37 The expert in the law replied, "The one who had mercy on him." Jesus told him, "Go and do likewise."

Questions for Discussion

1. Read Luke 10:25-37, the parable of the Good Samaritan.
2. What is the point of the story?
3. Why is it important that the hero is a Samaritan, a race that was scorned by the Jewish people?
4. How do you think the teacher who was talking to Jesus felt?
5. Are there ways that you can reach across boundaries with love and generosity the way the Samaritan did?
6. What would this story look like if lived out today?

Take time to pray for for one another.
